Windwood Farm School

Windwood has been providing education services on campus to our boys since its inception. In 1996, with the financial assistance of the Sertoma Club of Charleston and several generous local donors, the Windwood Farm School was erected. The Windwood School stands as a legacy to the founding members of The Sertoma Club of Charleston. Over twenty years ago The Sertoma Club interviewed the Windwood Board and made a decision to forge a lasting relationship with them. Each year following the annual Sertoma Football Classic, proceeds of that event are given to our agency to assist in sustaining the operation of the education center that has enabled many young boys to have their first positive experience in a classroom.

Charleston County School District provides the teachers, aides, and itinerant teachers for art and other subjects. Each boy receives education services that are individualized and, if they are classified as needing a special education curriculum, Individualized Education Plans (IEP's) are developed and followed during their stay with us.

All of the boys who are placed in our PRTF attend school on our campus. Boys who are placed in the group home may receive services at The Windwood Farm School or, if they have learned to maintain appropriate behaviors in the classroom they can be mainstreamed to a community school.

Windwood is open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

Our doors never close!

Also operating on our property.....

Windwood utilizes the Equine Assisted Growth and Learning or EAGALA model. The EAGALA Model provides a standard and structure for providing Equine Assisted Psychotherapy and Equine Assisted Learning sessions. The EAGALA Model provides a framework of practice, but within that framework, there are infinite opportunities for creativity and adaptability to various therapeutic and facilitating styles.

Bee Keeping

We have been 'buzzing' about this project at Windwood for years! We are thrilled to have the Bee Cause Organization alive and thriving on our property. Our boys are champions for animals, the environment and themselves as a result of the bee keeping program that The Bee Cause Project and Tami Enright provides!

Beekeeping is part of Windwood Farm's therapeutic recreation program for the boys who participate in one of our residential care and treatment programs.
